ACCESSIBILITY

While Columbia University works to make all venues on campus fully accessible, some are not. Please let us know if you have any members or participants who have mobility, hearing, or visual disabilities. We can make arrangements to relocate seminars to accessible locations in the event that they are scheduled for a venue that is not fully accessible. The following buildings are not fully accessible and we recommend scheduling in alternate locations: Lewisohn, Mathematics, Havemeyer, Philosophy (after 5pm), and Chandler. For information on the accessibility of other venues at Columbia or other locations, please contact the Office of Disability Services at 212.854.2388 or disability@columbia.edu.

TO BE INCLUDED IN ALL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Both The University Seminars and The Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action also ask that you include the following statement regarding accessibility in all of your seminar announcements:

Columbia University encourages persons with disabilities to participate in its programs and activities. The University Seminar participants with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations or who have questions about physical access may contact the Office of Disability Services at 212-854-2388 or disability@columbia.edu. Disability accommodations, including sign-language interpreters, are available on request.

Requests for accommodations must be made two weeks in advance. On campus, Seminar participants with disabilities should alert a Public Safety Officer that they need assistance accessing campus.
